

Approved Statement for Participating certified Coaches

As a participating coach in a program agreed between the International Coach Federation (ICF) and the United Nations World Food Programme (WFP), I provided coaching services to WFP staff.

The coaching sessions conducted included:

- A debrief on each participant's 360 report to recognize strengths and areas of further development;
- Discussion focusing on specific issues identified by the participants which arose from the 360 report; and
- Discussion on a personal development action plan.

WFP is the world's largest humanitarian agency: on average, distributing food to 90 million people each year, including 58 million hungry children in 80 of the world's poorest countries. For more information on the WFP you can go to their Web site www.wfp.org.

Founded in 1995, the ICF is the leading global organization for coaches, approaching 13,000 members in 80 countries, dedicated to advancing the coaching profession by setting high standards, providing independent certification, and building a worldwide network of credentialed coaches.
